

OSCR Reporter - May 2024

Welcome to the OSCR Reporter newsletter, your regular update of the latest charity sector news from the Scottish Charity Regulator.

New Sector Overview Report now available

We have published the latest version of our Sector Overview Report, covering the period from January to March 2024.

The report provides an outline of the charity sector in Scotland over the last three months, based on the information provided by charities on the Scottish Charity Register.

The report details the scale and scope of the charity sector, what it looks like and what issues are influencing and challenging charities in Scotland. It is a dynamic, interactive report which allows readers to filter data and select different options to view the most relevant information.

OSCR's Chief Executive

OSCR's Chief Executive, Maureen Mallon, will retire at the end of June 2024.

Making the announcement, Marieke Dwarshuis, OSCR's Chair said: "We are immensely grateful to Maureen Mallon for her dedicated work over the past five years. During this time, she has led the organisation successfully through a period of tremendous challenge, which has helped us to emerge stronger and ready for the next chapter of OSCR's story.

"I'm delighted to be able to announce that we have appointed Katriona Carmichael as OSCR's next Chief Executive Officer.

"I know that our staff and board members, and indeed the wider charity sector in Scotland, will join with me in wishing Maureen a long and happy retirement, and in providing Katriona with a warm welcome when she takes up her post in July."

Scottish Ministers test demand for review of key aspects of charity law

The Scottish Government want to hear the views of the public on whether there should be a review of key aspects of charity law and, if so, what you think the purpose and parameters of this should be.
